

Semester Project

Daniel Tal

Description: I will make a website that tracks your diet. It will be able to count your calories, log what you eat for the week, etc. I want it to be able to provide exercises for people who do not know what to do at the gym. As well as track your work out routine.

I want the user to be able to have a lot freedom on the website and be able to enter things freely.
